

TAKE RESPONSIBILITY

Create defensible space - in a pine landscape.

THE PINE LANDSCAPE shown above is typical of many areas in the United States.

DEFENSIBLE SPACE has been created in a similar area, shown in the photo below. The trees are well-spaced and ground fuels have been kept to a minimum.

WHEN ASSESSING your property, focus on being able to see lots of ground and daylight between your home and the vegetation that surrounds it, as well as between the vegetation itself.

This is a cooperative safety program by the Inyo National Forest and the Bishop Field Office of the Bureau of Land Management. For additional information call: 760-873-2400.
